This was my first year as Editor of the Clipper Yearbook, so my thank you's may be a bit longwinded. I apologize but it couldn't b helped. I'd just like to take the opportunity to say thank you to everyone who has helped me with the Clipper Yearbook.

Tom Keeley, without you there would be no yearbook. You have taught me so much and helped me survive my first year, thank you so very much for everything.

Jessica Rodden, you put so much time and effort into this book and kept me sane throughout the year. I could not have done it without you and all your amazing ideas and help. You have my undying gratitude.

Amy Saulich, thank you for having so much faith in me to give this position and to force me to make my own decisions along the way. When my inexperience got the best of me, you were always there with a kind word of encouragement. Thank you for trustin and helping me.

Tom Roundy, thank you for all the assistance you have given me. You have put so much effort into giving me sports pictures, write-ups and other articles. I could never have done it on my own.

Bruce Perry, thank you so much for all of your pictures and slides. You have been a tremendous help to me.

Also, I would like to thank everyone who has given me any photos for the yearbook, they were greatly appreciated. And last but n least - Congratulations Seniors- I hope you enjoy the book.

Salem State College Yearbook Dedication
May 17, 1999

Program Council hereby dedicates the 1999 Clipper Yearbook to Dr. Stanley P. Cahill, Vice President for Student Life. This dedication is given to Dr. Cahill for his outstanding contributions to the students of Salem State College.

Prior to his position as Vice President for Student Life, Dr. Cahill held a variety of other positions within student affairs. He was Dean of Students at Salem State, Director of Student Life at West Chester University in Pennsylvania, Assistant Director of Student Conduct at Kent State University, Assistant Dean of Students at Northern Michigan University, and Resident Director at Michigan State University.

Dr. Cahill holds a Ph.D. in Higher Education and Student Personnel and a Masters Degree in Labor and Industrial Relations from Michigan State University. He also possesses a Master of Education Degree in Student Personnel Administration and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from Kent State University.

Dr. Cahill has consistently been a strong supporter of campus activities, athletic programs, as well as groups and clubs. He has demonstrated this through his participation in numerous ceremonies and events, including, the Leadership Induction Ceremony, Leadership Renewal Day, Commuter Appreciation Day, the Leadership Institute, Homecoming, the Groups and Clubs Reception, Senior Awards, and the list goes on and on. The athletic program has also enjoyed tremendous support from Dr. Cahill, who is often in attendance at both home and away games. Additionally, Dr. Cahill is known for his active participation in diverse programs sponsored by the African American Student Association, the Women's Center, the Gay/Straight Alliance, Program Council, the Student Government Association and many others.

Dr. Cahill's commitment to students is evident not only by his participation in campus events, but also by the manner in which he relates to students. Dr. Cahill is extremely approachable and makes himself very accessible to students. He is always willing to meet with students to discuss their concerns, or visit a Student Government meeting to talk to students and help them understand the issues at hand.

Dr. Cahill has also been very supportive of new initiatives which benefit students, including the opening of the new Viking Grill eatery, as well as the creation of a new lounge, Cyber Cafe, and student services center on the first floor of the Campus Center.

In recognition of his tireless commitment to the students of Salem State College and to the academic institution as a whole, we would like to dedicate the 1999 Clipper Yearbook to Dr. Stanley P. Cahill.

Salem State wins Howard C. Smith Cup

By Tom Roundy
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Howard C. Smith Cup, symbolic of athletic team supremacy and awarded annually in the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference (MASCAC) since the league's inception in 1971, returns to its most familiar setting - Salem State College.

The SSC intercollegiate athletic program has been the most dominant member of the MASCAC, capturing the prestigious Smith Cup an astounding 18 times outright and sharing it once in the league's 27-year history.

The award is named in honor of Howard C . Smith, a former trustee in Massachusetts State College system, who was instrumental in the formation of the MASCAC. SSC compiled 37 out of a possible 66 points (Bridgewater was second with 34) this year in claiming the Smith Cup for the third time in the past four years and 17th time in the past 21 years. Talk about dynasties. SSC rightfully takes its place among the finest in all of intercollegiate athletics.

"We are so very proud of this year's teams," said John Galaris, S S C director of athletics. "The Smith Cup is an outstanding achievement that is a true indicator of the dedication and commitment put forth by the student athletes, coaching staff, and athletic department staff. It's an award the entire SSC community can take pride in. The league is highly competitive. It's not an easy accomplishment, especially when we're the big game on everybody's schedule in every sport."

SSC captured first place MASCAC finishes in baseball, men's basketball (co-champs), women's basketball, women's soccer and ice hockey.

Women's Soccer

Capsule: For the third straight year SSC women's soccer concluded its season with a championship. Despite an 8-8-2 overall record, the Vikings won five of six matches to capture the program's eighth MASCAC championship. One-goal losses haunted SSC as they did in 1997. The Vikings dropped six single goal decisions in 1998 after posting seven one-goal losses the season before.

Individual Honors: Senior defender Donna DaSilva was SSC's lone All-MASCAC first team selection. DaSilva was also chosen to play in the New England all divisions all-star game. She was named most valuable performer for this season. Senior forward Brabdi Hodson was chosen to the All MASCAC second team.

Men's Soccer

Capsule: The Vikings winning season concluded without a postseason tournament appearance after the college decided to withdraw the team from playoff consideration as the result of an SSC player having signed a professional contract prior to the start of the 1998 campaign. SSC had to vacate its MASCAC title because of the ineligible player's appearance in the team's first 12 matches.

Individual Honors: Junior forward Ebbie Kodiat was chosen MASCAC Player of the Year. Joining Kodiat on the All-MASCAC first team were senior midfielder Soren Balea and junior defender Osvaldo DosReis. These players were named Co-MVP's.

Women's Tennis

Capsule: The women's tennis team played just seven of its scheduled thirteen matches. A number of factors accounted for the Vikings not being able to have a full squad for six matches. A couple of players decided not to play just prior to the start of the season, another player suffered an injury and one player was declared ineligible. Despite a diminished squad, SSC displayed a competitive spirit while compiling a 0-7 record for the matches it played.

Individual Honors: This year's most valuable performer in Women's Tennis is freshman Taeko Suzuki from Japan.
